The First Professional Exhibition of poultry and livestock Breeding and Related industries (PLB 2011) in Alborz Province-Iran

While we are ready to hold this professional show, many associations and Companies related to this grand industry believe on holding this kind of shows in Tehran province and in international exhibition center. Actually it's not important where it will be held? But these factors are mainly more important; technical level and quality of participants; Diversity of professional visiting groups; Participation of governmental organs and associations; The methods and extent of informing procedure.

An International Exhibition in Tehran which has less standards, so this show will not reach to expected targets and surely its participants will lose their trust.

For an exact evaluation of an exhibition, we must Consider methods which it's executive managers have? And in which degree is ?

An International Exhibition is defined by it's professional subjects, specified and visitor groups. It cannot involve different setions such as economical, industrial, agricultural and commercial, altogether.

There are many shows round the world which are held in small and low populated towns, of course these towns are located exactly in an agricultural or poultry regions. Some of these Shows such as: France-Sparce Show which will be held in September 2011 in Renns; Eurotier show in Hanoofer-Germany; VIV Europe exhibition in small city of Dutricht; and Poultry show in academic small city of London; Ontario Show in Canada and so on.
