A glance on internal and external Commercial Conflicts of poultry industry

It seems as though producers, businessmen, industrial producer, Veterinary drug importers and poultry factories never will reach to an accurate and stable situation, while its known as economically profitable activity in Iran.

Our poultry producers are permanently face with endless conflicts, shortages, sever fluctuation of market, disagreements with the state, shadow of legal punishments, contentious warning to importers for decrease the prices and many other disturbances.

At all, poultry and hatchery industry is confronted with many worries and warnings, both internal and external approach. Now it`s time for poult industry collection and its pioneers and managers become as a unit by a enforceable and reliable treaty. They should trust together, share their own knowledges to decrease internal abuse intentions.

If so, There is no doubt different sectors of this economical industry will be faced with fewer external problems and also they will have more cooperation with our state sectors.
