Critical situation of agricultural economy

In this volume our editorial in chief, Mr. Mansoor Ansari analyzes our existed critical and economical situation. This article has two main aspects: first, raw materials for products such as: corn, soy bean; raw materials for production of drugs, fertilizers, poisons, seeds and others.

Second, adjusting importing of innovated commodities such as grains, rice, red meat and poultry meat which should be handled in a way not to hurt our productivity.

Here it's asked which association (state or majlis) is responsible for constitution of commercial and economical law in agricultural section?

Now we have a very critical and sensitive situation, so making decision is highly sensitive and determining. It's needed that responsible organs reflect the final decisions to 75 million people of Iran and also 4/000/000 investigators who are ready to have more cooperation with state.

Is there any economical solution for foreign exchange adjusting?!

In this article we look at gradual increasing of foreign exchange from december 2011 to August 2012. It's included that none law and obligation cannot adjust and stable the value of foreign exchange. The author directly relates it to food production for people.

It's essential to change the foreign exchange policy we should consider separated policy for each section such as agriculture sectors. Our existed political situation should be evaluated and changed, our statesman should stable our national economy because never laws, obligations and restrictions stable the value of foreign exchange.
